

MURPHY HAS CHANCE FOR LIGHTWEIGHT TITLE, SAY FANS

FRANKIE MURPHY

Both Principals in Best of Condition and Prepared to Battle Fifteen Rounds in Whirlwind Fashion

When Frankie Murphy and Al Young step into the arena Monday night at the Armory, it is predicted by numerous fans that Billie Glasmann, the gamest fight promoter that Ogden has ever known, has brought two lads together who will furnish a whirlwind battle from the tap of the gang. Both boys are on an equal footing physically, and in weight and ring experience are evenly matched. Of course, it must be admitted that Murphy has been up against a greater number of stellars than Young, and the showing Frankie has made in the circle with Ad Wolgast and others of almost equal ability, cannot be said to anything but creditable. It has been said by many who follow the game closely that Murphy has a real chance to land at the top.

Billie Glasmann has brought many top-notchers to Ogden in the past, and the expense of landing these boys here has been so great that it looked like the rankest kind of gambling to some of the most loyal fans as to whether Billie would be able to make the receipts meet the expense. But Billie's shows are always hovering around the highest standard and the fans rally to his support in the most loyal fashion. In fact, as an instance, seat sales up to this time, have exceeded expectations, and it is not too much to say that the Armory will be crowded Monday night.

Besides the Murphy-Young go, which will, undoubtedly be the premier performance seen here for a long time, there will be two rattling good preliminaries.

The following table shows how evenly Al Young and Frankie Murphy compare physically, Murphy having a small advantage in height and reach, but otherwise neither one has more than a shade on the other:

| MURPHY           |                 | YOUNG            |                 |

The promoter has secured Will Thornton of Salt Lake, to referee the Murphy-Young argument, and it goes without saying that a fair, square deal when it comes to decisions will be the result. Thornton is by far the most favorably known referee in this region, and his decisions have been so free from bias in the past that whenever his name is mentioned as the third man in the ring, both principals are more than satisfied to leave their fate in his hands.

Both Murphy and Young have worked hard for the match and are in fine condition. Frankie says: "No matter how many battles Young has won, this is sure one he can't win."

AL YOUNG

To our out-of-town friends: We advise that you secure seats early, as the capacity of the Armory is limited and there is sure to be a large crowd to witness this bout.
